

Bilingual School of Biblical Worldview 2017

The school of biblical worldview seeks to learn thinking biblically and through this change of mind produce effective and permanent changes within the society.

Our great challenge is the world of the ideas. They are the ones that change the history, and therefore we are called to challenge the established thinking.

Thinking biblically will allow us to produce changes in the different areas of the society: home, church, education, art, sports, communication, health, business and government. The course is focused on the reinterpretation of the scientific and philosophical thinking but not only to remain in the thinking, but to start carrying out specific actions to transform the different areas of the society. To achieve this goal, the school offers different teachings aimed to the reinterpretation of thinking and to the development of specific transformation projects. Among others we can mention:

- How to develop business projects from a biblical perspective?
- How to produce transformation from a public jail?
- How to reinterpret the history program of a elementary school?
- How to combat drug trafficking in a specific place?
- How to produce legislation changes?

With this purpose, participants will choose a topic of their interest and they will be encourage to think biblically in order to develop a transformation project. This project could be personal or in group.

Classes will be given by teachers with wide experience and knowledge in their specific fields.
